

Dear Parent/Guardian:

Your child is currently studying Civics and Economics and in order to reinforce his/her learning experience and understanding of certain material, I may plan to show one or more Rated R movies or clips from movies, time permitting.

Though the film is Rated R, I am convinced of its learning value and the material's ability to reinforce learning for the End of Course Exam. The R rating can be due to language, historical recreations of battle scenes and/or controversial subject matter. I can assure you the film will be shown in the proper context, including discussion and activities before and after the viewing.

Students who do not view the film will be able to work on an appropriate substitute assignment in a classroom nearby. Feel free to email me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ms. Thrower
